PROFILE

I am an enthusiastic and dedicated Information Technology student at Universiti Teknologi Petronas with a strong foundation in programming, web development, and software design. Passionate about building innovative, user-centric digital solutions, I thrive in environments that challenge my problem-solving skills and encourage continuous learning. With hands-on experience in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Python, and database systems, I aim to contribute meaningfully to modern tech-driven projects while constantly improving my technical expertise and teamwork capabilities.
